COURSE DESCRIPTION

This programme is intended to close the gap between your current knowledge and experience and your desire to pursue this course study. It will also assist you in developing the perspectives and abilities necessary for future success at the Master's level. The focus is on assisting you in developing into a self-sufficient creative practitioner who is both professionally and critically aware, who is aware of both the historical and contemporary contexts for art and design, and who is able to function with assurance in an English-speaking educational setting. If necessary, this Diploma will assist you in improving your current English abilities so that you can reach the necessary level for direct acceptance into a Master's programme. Also, the course will give you exposure to UK culture. Our Graduate Diploma programme offers three tracks that can be customised to meet your disciplinary goals. You can select from Fashion (Fashion Design, Fashion Branding, and Creative Communication), Art and Design (Fine Art, Product/Industrial Design, Spatial Design, Speculative Design), and Visual Communication (Graphic Design, Illustration, Animation, Photography, Moving Image).
